

Counterparty information for the use of eligible assets: Switching to a newsletter subscription procedure for explanatory information on rule changes to the Eurosystem collateral framework and other ad-hoc information as of 1 February 2024

Dear Sir or Madam,

Up to now, we have sent you information with explanatory character on adjustments to the collateral framework by e-mail¹. From 1 February 2024, we will no longer provide you with this information and guidance via a mailing list, but exclusively via the following newsletter subscription.

To receive the newsletter, you can already register on our homepage at Service → Subscribe to newsletter | Deutsche Bundesbank. Please select the newsletter "Eurosystem collateral framework" under one of the above links in the "Monetary policy" section and complete the required information. You will then automatically receive all the information that we post under the heading "Counterparty information" in the area of eligible collateral from 1 February 2024 onwards.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact our collateral hotline at 069 9566-32599 or sicherheitenliste@bundesbank.de.
